Within five working days you will receive communication from the ISWM Executive Director to discuss your application. You will be asked to verify either a course of study that is related to weighing or measurement and/or a current position that you hold that required training of a metrological nature. After this conversation, your application will be reviewed by the ISWM Board of Directors and likely approved for membership. We will then assign you a sponsor who will have 5+ years of experience in the metrological field and whose goal is to assist you with industry related information relevant to your career plans. We will attempt to find a sponsor located near your location.

During this one-year membership these members will have full access to our member database and use of the ISWM Job Board for posting resume's, our technical resource material and our internal training opportunities.

As time progresses, we will reexamine these category membership limits for possible expansion.
